United Way Born Learning Academy Usage Guidelines

Important Notes
The United Way Born Learning Academy logo treatment can only be used on materials developed for academy materials. Only pre-approved content provided by United Way Worldwide may be edited. New materials utilizing the logo treatment may be created locally, but must be approved by United Way Worldwide staff, and must comply with the below branding guidelines.

Sponsor and Partner Logos

Sponsors may customize United Way Born Learning Academy materials with “Sponsored by:” or in special cases “Driven by” next to their logo.

Partners and sponsors may add their logo to print materials as illustrated below. United Way Worldwide recommends that front page sponsor recognition be reserved for top sponsor logos, while supporting sponsor logos should be displayed on back page. If all sponsors are equal, then no sponsor logo should be displayed on the front.

EXAMPLES

Correct Usage of the Name
For any graphic purposes, the United Way Born Learning Academy logotype should be used.

EXAMPLES

CORRECT USE OF NAME
When referencing United Way Born Learning Academy in body copy (in a paragraph or as a paragraph header) or as a page title, the entire name must be typed out.

Usage of the Registered Symbol
Use of the registered symbol is correctly applied to the United Way Born Learning Academy logo. As long as the logo is used on all materials created, the registered symbol does not need to be applied anywhere else. However, if the logo is NOT used, such as in a press release, the registered mark should appear in the first reference of the document as follows: United Way Born Learning® Academy.
